

Looking for a school where your child will be inspired?

McGuffey's holistic, hands-on approach to education has a long tradition of graduating students who excel in high school and beyond. In the past two years McGuffey has incorporated Montessori teaching materials and approaches into its rich curriculum and the results have been outstanding. Consider the following from a recent parent survey:

- 98% agreed that McGuffey provides an environment that is conducive to learning
- 97% agreed that their child is learning to communicate his or her ideas, opinions and feelings in multiple ways
- 95% agreed that their child is learning to embrace the joy of learning, exploring, and growing
- 92% agreed that McGuffey has had a positive impact on their child's self-confidence

McGuffey Montessori students excel in virtually every measure of academic performance. From standardized test scores to numerous awards at the Model U.N. conference, to an impressive alumni network of National Merit Scholars, Ohio Regent Scholars, and National Honor Society members, McGuffey's unique approach to education produces students with confidence in their abilities and a genuine love of learning.
